Here are a couple of videos that show what I was trying to explain about the haze. There are days that it is not as obvious and there are days that it is worse. The smell is always there, downwind from this place. The large fans are on the back dividing wall of the hen house forcing air over the waste piles. It gets worse when the conveyance system, attached to the ceiling of the manure room, is in operation. I have searched the web and I believe that this hen house and manure room combination with an open ended design is specific to the Hickman farms. I have a few newer videos on my video camera and a couple more on you tube. Thank you, Raul.
